

Another Place

Another Place

I walk
into what light
there is not enough for blindness

or clear sight
of what is to come

yet I see
the water
the single boat
the man standing

he is not someone I know this is another place

what light there is spreads like a net
over nothing

what is to come
has come to this before

this is the mirror
in which pain is asleep
this is the country
nobody visits.

Mark Strand

Colophon

Another Place
the stars and the moon
and the sea and strand

artist's book
photography by Ewa Monika Zebrowski the poem "Another Place" by Mark Strand includes 13 digital inkjet prints printed on the Epson Stylus 1270 Printer on Epson Matte Heavyweight Paper portfolio & embossing on BFK Rives 250g paper limited edition artist's book with slipcase edition of 20 copies: 12 copies numbered from 1/20 to 12/20

1 copy reserved for Mark Strand 1/20 1 DL BNQ 13/20
1 DL BNC 14/20
3 copies reserved for the artist 15/20 – 17/20 1 copy reserved for Jacques Fournier 19/20 1 copy reserved for The Wylie Agency 20/20

Book Design Ewa Monika Zebrowski Reliure Jacques Fournier

"Another Place" from MARK STRAND - SELECTED POEMS edited by Alfred A. Knopf, New York, 2004.
Reprinted with the kind permission of Mark Strand & The Wylie Agency, Inc.
Copyright © 1979 by Mark Strand

© Ewa Monika Zebrowski
© Mark Strand

Montreal (Quebec)
August 2007